Due Diligence

What does the due diligence process entail?

Due diligence is the first step of the eligibility process of implementing partners. Without due diligence approved, they will not be able to submit project proposals.

Once the Humanitarian Financing Unit (HFU) has approved the implementing partner’s registration and granted them access to the Grant Management System (GMS), partners can initiate the due diligence process by filling out and submitting the due diligence application form on the GMS.

After submitting the due diligence application, HFU will thoroughly review the information as they are critical to ensuring effective risk management. This is why due diligence applications can be rejected if the application is incomplete or if the implementing partner does not meet the minimum requirements. Implementing partners can then be asked to re-draft and re-submit their due diligence application.

Please note: It is at the discretion of each Country Based Pooled Fund (CBPF) to add any mandatory or optional requirements to the registration and due diligence stage. Each CBPF can decide whether the registration and due diligence steps are open to any interested prospective implementing partners, or strictly by invitation.

THE DUE DILIGENCE APPLICATION
The due diligence application form is composed of four tabs: Application Form, Due Diligence Documents, Bank Info and Due Diligence Checklist. All these tabs need to be filled in before submitting the form.

Please note: Although UN Agencies do not need to go through due diligence, information should be provided on the tabs “Application Form” and “Bank Info”. On the Application Form tab, the only two mandatory fields are the contact details of the legal representative and the focal person. The national registration number appears as N.A. Additionally, the Bank information is needed on the “Bank Info” tab. No input is needed on Due Diligence Documents and Due Diligence Checklist.
Field Descriptions:

- National Registration Number: Enter the registration number that the organization uses for national registration
- Certificate Expiry Date: Click to provide the certificate expiry date as indicated on the national or international registration certificate
- Not applicable: This checkbox should be checked if there is no certificate expiry date

* Please Note: Collected information enables OCHA to confirm the identity of the implementing partners representatives, which is a legal requirement of the Grant Agreement. However,
In the Contact section, at least one contact must be marked as a MoU or as Signatory, or the application will not be submitted.

- The 'MoU' box should be ticked if the contact is the legal signatory of the Grant Agreement and the project's reports. Signatory contacts will be generated in the Grant Agreement upon projects' approval. Only one person from the partner's organization can sign the Grant Agreement, however, implementing partners can provide several MoU options in the due diligence application.

- The 'Signatory' box should be ticked if the contact is the legal signatory of financial reports of the project.

- A Signatory/MoU contact doesn't need to be identified as such multiple times. Ticking the Signatory/MoU box once is enough for the system to identify the contact as Signatory/MoU.

MoU and Signatory contacts are automatically generated in the List of Active Signatories.
For these active signatory contacts as listed in this box, you will be requested to upload a scanned copy of their ID under the List of Active Signatories.

To do so, click on the icon in the action column of the Active Signatories section, select the identity document from your desktop and click on [Upload].
Please note, the system will display an error icon in the action column of the signatory contact, and the line will be red, if the related information is incomplete. For instance, if there is no attached document. To be able to send your Due Diligence to the Humanitarian Financing Unit for Review, make sure that all fields are filled in, that the contact is active and the necessary ID document is attached.

How to update the due diligence application after submission

Once the due diligence application has been submitted, the form is no longer editable and appears as 'read only'. If necessary, the form can be updated under two circumstances:

- After submission, HFU did not approve the application, and requested the implementing partner to re-draft the due diligence application form. The application form will automatically revert from being 'read only' to editable. Implementing partners should follow the HFU’s recommendations and submit the due diligence application a second time.
- After submission, HFU approved the due diligence application. However, the implementing partner wants to change its due diligence information. They must contact their country HFU which will reactivate the application form. The implementing partner can then fill in the new information and submit the new draft for review to HFU.

HFU:

If the Partner wishes to update the information of their Approved Due Diligence, click on [Send to Under Review]. Then, click on [Submit for Re Draft].
Once the HFU sends the request for re-draft, the form is editable again. Different protocols apply, depending on the type of information the implementing partner wishes to edit:

Step 2: Add a new bank info by clicking on the [Add new bank info] button.

Step 3: Save the changes.

Step 4: Re-submit the due diligence application to HFU.

Please note. If bank info has been used on a project, it needs to be changed not only in the due diligence application but also in the Grant Agreement of the project.
